SIXTY-EIGHTH YEAR No. 35

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, JULY 27, 1945

AUTO BALKED WHILE BOYS GET AWAY

A balky automobile caused the arrest of a 17-year old youth, after having stolen other autos.

Four youths had stolen a car at Medina, near Cleveland. All went well until gas ran low. The car was abandoned at the C. H. Crouse farm on the Columbus Pike East of town. Here they picked up the Eldon Wall car, who resides on the Crouse farm.

This car was abandoned on Cedar street when gas gave out. The boys had turned to that street for Route 42 to Xenia. This car was left near the A. M. E. Church.

The quartette found the key in a car owned by Mrs. Anna Collins Smith on Cedar Street. This was an invitation to pile in and get away.

The car started and then it began to buck and snort and this awakened Mrs. Smith at 1:30 Saturday morning.

She gave the alarm to the neighbors and the quartette jumped from the machine, two going one way and two the other, all on a run. Chief Marshall resides next to Mrs. Smith and gave the alarm to nearby towns.

Looking over the streets he found a lone youngster, who claims to be 17 sitting on a curb down town. He denied that he knew anything of the affair. However, it is said he was identified by Mrs. Smith as one of the party, the street light lighting the street in front of her home.

The boy was held for several days and then turned over to the authorities in Xenia.

Finally the boy admitted he had a part in the attempted theft but he refused to expose the other three.

The story told by the boy was that the gang stole a car in Erie, Pa., another at Medina and then the two local cars. Whether he will be held by the county authorities or turned over to Medina authorities has not been decided as the Prosecutor has been out of the county on vacation.

COLLEGE NEWS

Miss Irene Goodin, CC alumna, and a teacher in the Greene county schools for the past five years has resigned her position as teacher in the Ross Twp. schools, and plans to enter the ranks of welfare workers. Miss Goodin called on Cedarville friends Tuesday evening. She lives in Jamestown.

Lt. Donald Buehler, '35, visited friends in Cedarville last Friday. Don has just returned from France with his battery unit. His 30-day furlough ended yesterday and he is now in North Carolina taking training in jungle warfare, after which he will be sent to the Pacific area. In the course of his training he has been in Texas, Oklahoma, California, New York, and points between. Our soldier-boys will sure be cosmopolitan for the rest of their lives. His home is in Peebles, Ohio, where his father has been Methodist pastor for the last seven years. He was pastor at Jamestown at the time Don was in CC.

Manager 'Bill' Boyce reports that the 38-acre wheat crop is in the bin as combining was finished Tuesday. The yield was average. Due to the fact that the cattle were pastured on the wheat during May the crop was about the last to ripen for cutting. In the 'gay nineties' it was common to pasture the rye field but who ever heard of pasturing the wheat? Twentieth century stuff, you see!

President and Mrs. Vayhinger were at Bradford, Ohio, last Sabbath where they gave the message to Presbyterian Congregation.

Sgt. LeRoy S. Haynie, '42, is now located at Bergstrom Field, Austin, Texas, where he and fifty other radio operators are taking training to prepare them for service on C-4's for troop carrier command. As in most cases the boys, if given their choice, would choose to be in the bombardment division. Most of us are animal enough to want to be in at the kill. And yet we are all praying that end may come soon.

Of the various means of cutting wheat this writer has seen in action the scythe, cradle, drop-headed, self-rake reaper, self-binder and combine. For threshing, flail, horsepower, engine moved from job to job by ox-team, traction engine, gas engine. We take these advancements as a matter of course, often forgetting that to whom much is given, of him much is required.

CONG. BROWN TO ATTEND FARM MEN'S CAMP, AUG. 11—

Congressman Clarence J. Brown has accepted an invitation to attend the Greene County Farm Men's camp at Camp Clifton, August 11 and 12. Congressman Brown will speak to the group Saturday evening on "Washington Scenes."

The Camp which is sponsored by the Farm Forum will open Saturday afternoon, August 11, and close Sunday afternoon, August 12. The Xenia Twp. Committee headed by Paul Harner and Cecil Conklin are arranging the program. Harold Fawcett is the chairman of the Saturday evening program; James T. Anderson and Leroy Hollingsworth, the sports committee; and Paul Harner is planning the Sunday morning service.

Advance registration must be made. Tickets may be secured from township committee members or at the county agent's office.

SENIOR 4-H WORK—

Senior 4-H Club camp for club members 15 years old and older is being held at Camp Clifton this week. More than 100 campers from Greene and adjoining counties have enrolled. Russell McDonald of Jefferson Twp. and Roberta Fudge of Silvercreek Twp. are serving as camp counselors. The camp opened Tuesday afternoon and will close Sunday morning. J. P. Schmidt of Ohio State University is serving as discussion leader for the week.

OATS CROP BEST IN YEARS—

One of the best crops of oats in years is now being harvested. A larger acreage than normal was seeded this year and the wet-cool spring was ideal for the crop. The straw made good growth and yields of grain will be good.

The acreage of oats has been declining and in recent years has been replaced on many farms by soybeans. Previously oats acreage rose and fell in direct opposition to the acreage of soybeans and served largely as a replacement for wheat failures. A peak of 13,000 acres was reached in the twenties, however, the present acreage is around 5000 acres.

CLIP WHEAT STUBBLE—

Legume seedlings in wheat have made remarkable growth and prospects are good for a large crop next year. To reduce injury to the legume seedlings and improve the quality of forthcoming hay crop the wheat stubble should be clipped.

Stubble left by the combine may cut low since close cutting will discourage weed growth as these plants grow from buds along the stem but will not injure clover or alfalfa, which produce new growth from the crowns of the plants. Removing the straw will help the legume and result in less stubble in the hay.

NATIONAL SAFETY WEEK—

The week of July 22-28, has been designated by President Truman as National Farm Safety Week. Farm accidents which cause some 1400 farm residents to lose their lives each month, and 125,000 others to endure injuries, constitute a great waste of time and material as well as untold human suffering.

The skill and labor of farmers are vital to the nation, so their safety is a vital factor. Sound safety practices which reduce farm hazards should be developed to stop the needless waste of farm manpower and property.

SECRETARY ANDERSON TO MEET WITH FARMERS—

Clinton Anderson, secretary of agriculture will be in Cincinnati Saturday and Sunday, August 4 and 5, for a conference with farmers and farm leaders Saturday afternoon and to speak over WLW on the "World Front" program. An invitation has been extended to Greene County farmers to attend the Saturday meeting.

BEEKEEPERS MEETING—

The Ohio Beekeepers' Association is scheduling its Summer meeting on July 31 and August 1, at the factory of the A. L. Roof Company, Medina, Ohio. Out-of-state speakers and the leading beekeepers will cover important phases of beekeeping pertinent to problems of the industry.

LIME PAYS—

Ohio experiments show that application of lime enough to permit legume growth increased corn yields 18 bushels, wheat eight bushels and timothy hay yields sixtenths of a ton per acre. These increases indicate there is a very good profit in applying lime aside from its principal value, which is to pave the way for clover and alfalfa.

GREENE CO. FAIR OPENS TUESDAY

The ODT, whatever that is, gave an order that almost prohibited all county fairs. Protests poured in on the New Dealers and then came a modified order to permit fairs to open as usual. The order relates "trading areas," as the grounds for opening, a misnomer term for pure blunder. The new order now permits all conscientious New Dealers to attend the fair without violating any of the New Deal Russian directives.

Many Ohio counties never intended to observe the ruling of the almighty crackpots in Washington.

County Fair Is "Clearing House"

For New Ideas

By MARY FAY BRYSO

Early in the war when farmers were urged to produce food for freedom, they pushed their plows harder and longer and grew the largest crops on record. They have not ceased on their efforts, rather they have shown greater purpose each year.

Now that they are entranced to "fight with food and bonds" they are meeting and even passing earlier expectations.

The service flag at the Court House represents more than 4,000 Greene County boys and girls in the ranks of the war. Hundreds of these are from our farms. These same young people not so long ago were bringing their 4-H Club and vo-ag calves and pigs to the fair to exhibit what they had done to produce some of the finest livestock in the county. Or they had fashioned dresses and ensembles that helped to make the style show a success or had saved the freshness of summer vegetables and fruits in their canning of these precious foods.

These soldier-children are an added incentive that farmer-fathers have this year, to produce more than a few years ago they would have thought possible.

One of the factors that contributed to the present success of the farmers was the Greene County Fair where new devices or better means of employing the old ones could be seen and discussed.

The fair is a clearing house for ideas to be exchanged. It serves, too, as a slight breathing spell between the rigors of spring and fall work. It is a good place to see how well the other fellow has been doing his work or how clever he may have been to think up some labor-saving device.

The women of the county appreciate their Achievement Day. The Greene County Fair might be considered an "achievement week" or an inspirational holiday.

One of the things our people have learned from this war is that of the strength and value of the family unit . . . that our hearth stones are the stepping stones to national valor and vigor.

The fair, primarily an agricultural organization, does cater to each member of the family, town or country, while emphasizing "the family" as the most important unit in community life.

At the fair are things to see and events to enjoy that are suitable to every age. There is plenty of wholesome fun, which to Americans is a necessary ingredient in every family circle.

Greene County Farmers and our neighboring counties, too, are looking forward now to attending the fair, of course, but many of them are planning to exhibit some of their products.

Why don't you Mr. and Mrs. Farmer, make a survey of the things you have produced? Perhaps your wheat or heifer or pig . . . or bread or chicken, your kitchen apron or your neighbor, too! Why not show something at the fair as well as attend it? Exhibiting adds zest to attendance.

You know that old county saying, "Greene County Fair, then three frosts, then Christmas!" That's an illustration of how fast the time flies so better start now to see what you may have to show.

Farmers, more tired than usual, more concerned for their absent, soldier-children, will need the few days of the fair to refresh and restore their unbreakable determination to meet the entry . . . Fight with Food and Bonds.

Congressman Brown To Address Farmers

CLARENCE J. BROWN

Congressman Clarence J. Brown has accepted an invitation to address the Greene County Farm Forum men who will be in camp at Camp Clifton on August 11 and 12. He will speak at the Saturday evening session.

A tentative date of August 7th has been set for an "off the record" address before the Greene County Republican Committee by Cong. Brown, at a place to be announced later.

FAYETTE COUNTY FAIR ON UNMOLESTED

The Fayette County Fair is going full blast, having opened Tuesday. It is one of the earliest fairs in this part of the state and the management proceeded with all arrangements as if no order ever was issued by the New Dealers that demanded a permit to operate and later to close up shop.

England Trades Horses

The British Tories that sold the Roosevelt New Dealers World War II took a terrible defeat when most all of the Churchill Tory leaders in the House of Commons were defeated by candidates of the Labor Party. The election was held several weeks ago but the result of the balloting was announced Thursday (British time), due to the soldier vote scattered all over the earth. This vote was overwhelmingly against Churchill's government. The other political party candidates failed to draw any of the disappointed Churchill vote as was expected to aid the Tory candidates.

Churchill saw most of his present cabinet members defeated even for seats in the House of Commons. In the list were his own son and his son-in-law.

Evidently Churchill expected defeat of his party though he himself was chosen over the Labor candidate in his district. He had asked for an overwhelming vote of confidence or he would resign, was the campaign promise.

Churchill left Potsdam to be at home when the election results were announced. The Big Three Conference was adjourned for that purpose. It is certain Laborite Attlee will sit on the Big 3 as the British delegate and this may mean the opening of many subjects that have already been agreed.

Some of the issues in the campaign involved both Roosevelt and Stalin. The British are at fearful of Stalin as they were of Hitler. They oppose Russia taking command of European political influence and most all elections held in the liberated countries have resulted in Communistic or Stalin victories. The world does not yet know of the many secret agreements made between Stalin and Roosevelt, along with Harry Hopkins, who may in his trip tied President Truman to the Russian Bear.

The result of the British election was not a strictly labor movement as it would be taken in this country. Dissatisfied groups, many from the Churchill camp, joined the Labor party to defeat Churchill due to his support of many issues now before the Big Three Conference.

The defeat of the Churchill Tories may change the tune of some of the U. S. Senators that are playing the Joe Stalin horn in support of giving away our money to foreign nations.

FARMERS URGE UP PRICE ON ALL HOGS

A very important meeting was held Tuesday in Indianapolis, Ind., that concerns all farmers and hog breeders and feeders.

In the group were farm leaders, representatives of the packing industry as well as others all working with the OPA to get an increase of not less than 25c per hundred and not more than 50c per hundred to the farmer. This would make $15.40 at Cincinnati as base price if the 50c increase was granted. OPA gave no hint of what it would do or that it was interested in the increased price even to get a higher production of hogs.

What an age! What a time we live in! What if our grandfathers were to awake? Would they not be mystified over the loss of the right to produce and sell farm crops without getting on bended knees and begging some oily haired bureaucrat if the hog price might not be increased a few cents more per hundred. If grand dad did awake would he not inquire if we had not been taken over by Russia under the Second World War?

It certainly would be hard for the old fellow to reconcile himself though he had been dead, that his once beloved America was no more.

Refusal of the request, as modest as it is, when it should be $1 additional to meet the war wage rate of $2 and hour, should convince hog feeders that the only way to get the increase would be to further decrease production by fifty percent. Cattle and sheep feeders should do likewise.

Hon. Colin McMillan Died Thursday A. M.

Hon. Colin McMillan, 87, Colville, Washington, a native of Cedarville, passed away Thursday morning according to a telegram received by Miss Mary Williamson. He had been ill since April and died in the hospital at Colville.

Mr. McMillan was born on the farm now owned by Mr. J. O. Conner and went west with two other brothers in the pioneering days of the great north west. He was a successful farmer and had acquired a large ranch in the rich mountain valleys that seldom experienced crop failures. Wheat, oats and timothy hay were the main crops. Mr. McMillan was prominent politically in the Democratic party in his county and Senatorial District and served with distinction in the Washington State Legislature several terms. He also lived to have his son succeed him in the State Senate.

The deceased is survived by three sons and two daughters his wife having passed away some years ago; and by two sisters, Miss Sally McMillan and Mrs. E. L. Stormont of this place. No information has been received as to funeral arrangements.

MRS. EMMA TONKINSON DIED MONDAY A. M.

Mrs. Emma H. Tonkinson, 81, widow of Amos M. Tonkinson, former residents, died Monday morning at 9 o'clock, at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Ledbetter, Washington Rd., south of Xenia. She was stricken with bronchial pneumonia in May and complications followed.

The deceased was a life long resident of the county and was born near Cedarville, December 17, 1863, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Haines. She was married to Mr. Tonkinson on January 1, 1878 and she lived in Xenia in 1916. She was a member of the First Methodist Church, Xenia, the South Side W. C. T. U. and was a charter member of the Cedrine Club.

Besides Mrs. Ledbetter she leaves four other daughters, Mrs. Lula B. Nash, Dayton; Mrs. Lester Harner, Xenia; Mrs. Charles Watkins, Xenia. Mrs. L. Warren Clouse, Xenia, and a son, J. Leroy Tonkinson, Proctor, Mont; twelve grandchildren and thirteen great-grandchildren.

Three grandsons are serving in the armed forces, Lt. Donald S. Foster and Pfc. Carl A. Watkins, who are in the South Pacific theater, and Pvt. John Tonkinson, stationed in Texas. The funeral was held Wednesday at the Ledbetter home. Burial took place at Woodland Cemetery, Xenia.

Heavy Rain Fine For Corn; Checks Wheat and Oats Harvest

This section of Ohio was treated to an electrical storm Wednesday evening, accompanied by a heavy rain but fortunately no damage. The rain was welcome for corn and garden crops even though wheat threshing and combining would be held up for a day. Most elevators in this community were loaded with wheat awaiting freight cars.

BRICKER WILL NOT OPPOSE SEN. BURTON

Stories in the daily press that former Governor John W. Bricker, would be a candidate for senator against H. H. Burton, Cleveland, prove to be incorrect. Mr. Bricker, while on a business trip to the Pacific Coast, denies the report. It is more likely that Ohio Republicans will draft the former three-time governor to be a candidate again in 1946.

Truman Kicks 'Morgy' Out As Treasurer

Henry Morganthau has thrown the gauntlet down to the Truman administration by stating he was fired from the job, in other words he was politely asked to resign his job. He admits he would have liked to remain on until V-Day and so expressed himself to the President, but the "nothing doing" sign was hung on his door.

What a contrast that a Democrat President would fire one whom FDR branded in a public statement as the best treasurer the nation ever had, harrasing none. Reports reflect much more. There are numerous other Democrats of the Roosevelt-Communist stripe that are "billed to get the air" upon the President's return. My, Oh! My! What a political slaughter of so many good men!

Local Teachers Join Xenia Faculty

Xenia City schools will have the service of two of Cedarville's teachers for the coming school year. Mrs. Ruth Ross, who has been teaching in the Clifton schools, and Mrs. Alva Sugawen (Mary Ann McCampbell) who has been teaching in Bellbrook for two years will become members of the Xenia school faculty.

THREE XENIA MEN FINED FOR FOOD PRICE BOOSTS

The Office of Price Administration levied penalties on three Xenia restaurant proprietors last week for increasing food prices. It makes no difference how much more food costs an eating house, he cannot increase the price. He just drops that item from the menu whether the customer wants it or not.

The three fined were James Malavazos, proprietor of Candy Kitchen, $200; Earnest Donteos, operator of the Interurban Restaurant, $100 and Alex Theodore, Britania Restaurant, $100.

FARMER IS A MARKED MAN ON SLAUGHTERING

The American farmer is to be a marked man under New Dealism before snow falls again and butchering time arrives, if all reports are true and what can be judged from the surface. There is every evidence that out of a clear sky each farmer will be licensed as a slaughterer by the New Deal, even to kill and cure his own meat. What other red tape is to be wound around the farmer cannot even be estimated for the administration never has any end to that brand of tape.

It has come to our attention the OPA has started to put the heat on the Greene County Infirmary and that to slaughter hogs owned and grown by the county, the Infirmary must take out a license and then turn over red points to cover the weight of the hogs dressed.

It will be recalled the New Deal tried to work the same kind of a racket on the State of Ohio about the wheat grown on state land for flour for inmates of state institutions. The State ignored all demands about acreage and went on producing wheat as usual to feed the unfortunate.

The New Deal is in its dying days and the pressure of the bureaucrats for revenue to keep a few millions on the jobs at the expense of each and every citizen, is tremendous. It is said Congress was "high pressured" from every quarter to get millions more for salaries for New Deal vote buying for the future. Taking the meat, sugar, and other necessities of life away from the aged, infirm and prisoners in confinement, to say nothing of the millions of children, is leaving a bad taste in the mouths of even many that have supported the New Deal in the past. One thing is sure many such orders as may hit the farmer on slaughtering, would not be issued if this was a campaign year for the election of congressmen, senators or even a president.

The base of the whole trouble lies directly on the shoulders of each and every man and woman that voted the Democratic CIO-Communist and for the return of Franklin D. Roosevelt as president last November. The warning was issued then but the public was duped by the lying propaganda put out by the greatest gang of organized liars the world ever knew. The public must suffer, guilty and the innocent alike. After all it is the result of the last Democratic victory. Certainly from the unfolding of recent events in high places and the attending scandal, there was a personal reason just why the Roosevelt dynasty must be continued without trading horses.

Now, here we are today. We have traded horses (by an act of death), right in the middle of the stream, and a successor is kicking out the bureaucrats by the dozen and the horde of puppets by the hundred. In the face of this trade the new President continues to tighten down on the chance of further plunder of the public treasury as went on in the days of the Roosevelt plunderbund. The nation will pay a tremendous price for four months of New Deal government while the civilian commander-in-chief was enveloped in a fog from which he never saw the light of day again. It was no wonder many in the official circle resigned rather than have their names linked with the plunderbund that was directing affairs until death brought about that change of horses in mid-stream.

AS WE GO FLITTING ALONG IN UPPER STRATOSPHERE

The nation is being taken for a ride in the stratosphere on the world peace issue, or no more world wars. It is fine political publicity, whether for a world United Nations or our own forty-eight political subdivisions. The Senate is going through the formula of plunging the nation into world affairs, when we cannot find even jam and jelly for the nation's babies. The fellows propagandizing the (world peace program) are the ones that sit down three times daily to rich juicy porthouse steaks.

This time the Democrats are so cock sure of what Stalin is to do and will not do, they are willing to put all our good money up to guarantee his worthless rubles. That is New Dealism, just giving away the money you pay your government in the form of income taxes. You ride on worthless rubber, you are commanded to stay off the trains and busses (to make room for New Dealers on government salary in the name of our soldier boys. There are a lot of editors who have absorbed the Stalin theory of government, they would have it displace our own, rather than reside under their idol. Some day the world will know what it is all about, but that day will be too late for retribution.

We are inclined to think that Com. Harold E. Stassen, former governor, a member of the San Francisco delegation that aided in forming the United Nations Charter, that such an instrument does not mean that all the problems of the world are solved or that peace is assured. He points out such a view only breeds a complacency that defeats the end in view.

Right at a time we prepare for peace the brass hats and war mongers demand that we place our youth of 18 years and under in compulsory military service. While this goes on an investigation committee in Congress demands that we eliminate at once the Communists that Roosevelt, Stimson and the war lords placed in command of our troops scattered all over the earth. Striking comparison is it not?

While we talk peace and send our boys by the million to fight Japan, what are England and Russia doing? We gave both our blood and money and neither offers to give further aid until both can see what the harvest is to be in the way of loans or money grants for rehabilitation are to be. Evidently Stalin is holding out for secret promises made by FDR. He is not to be tampered with. His own nation recognizes only the rawest brand of dictatorial rule with democracy an unknown term.

While we debate a more or less wishful dream about the future Gov. Stassen says: "The success in obtaining the goal will depend upon the good faith and continued alert interest of the peoples of the world. No charter and no machinery can overcome widespread bad faith or ill will or malice or complacency."

The whole program has become unanimous as a propaganda stunt that the American public is likely to turn sour on the program. Hunger at home, demands for more self-sacrifice to feed, cloth and warm the world, may become the mill-stone around the neck of the average American. At this moment we are being told the nation must do with six million tons of less coal this winter than last winter. Who knows what the coming winter is to be like? Who can predict that we ourselves can even be comfortable, let alone well heated in homes? The report of course comes from Harold Ickes, a mouthpiece for the New Deal, that is on the way back to Chicago where and the Democratic city authorities can continue their fight to collect Harold's back taxes. Imagine us giving coal to Europe when we are feeding several hundred thousand war prisoners that could be mining coal within German borders for the Saar region is as rich in coal and ore as any point in the U. S.

In our opinion the success or failure of the United Nations movement on our part will depend on just how much more the American people will stand when we are compelled to continue personal sacrifice year after year and then be compelled to have millions of our sons doing world police duty instead of enjoying the fruits of victory for free people at home. A little more attention paid to the men in and just out of service in discussing world peace probably would do more to uphold the United Nations program than by railroading something on the public it has had no opportunity to study or even read about. The whole charter was written by a Russian, a subject under Stalin and agreed to secretly by Churchill and Roosevelt. That will be the charter Mr. Truman will bring back for Americans to swallow.

TRULY ROOSEVELTIAN

The snap bean growers in ten eastern states told the War Food Administration they would not plant the present crop unless OPA ceiling prices were eliminated. The WFA and OPA held talk tests, the former wanted to give in at first, the latter held out for days and days before making a decision. The law requires that all crop price ceilings must be announced fifteen days before planting time. The OPA has not announced a price and the fall crop will be without price ceilings in those ten states but ceiling prices must prevail elsewhere. If farmers had as much backbone as the bean growers they would be getting $23.00 a hundred for hogs instead of $14.75. Retail prices today are compared with World War I are higher under OPA than then, twenty-five years ago. Butter, milk, beef could all be put in the class of snap beans in the ten states if the farmers did a little thinking and not so much listening to the Communist clique down in Washington. The growers of beans in the ten states received 1914 prices. Now they will double the price and get war time profit along with the retailer. The bean grower was getting the same price for his beans as when the retail price was 8-10c a pound. In the East the New Deal retail price was 17.5-20c. Here is a lesson.

The Dayton Sunday News touches on the farmer over-expanding crops and taking a lower price in a glutted market. Now the News points out by growing less the farmer would realize more net revenue. All of which is gospel truth. But that policy has not been the New Deal policy advocated the past few years. The News joined with the New Deal Communists in Washington preaching for greatly increased crops, more hard labor on the part of the farmer wearing out land and machinery and get 1914 prices for his efforts while industry and government took down war boom prices, even to $12 a day. We are glad to see the News editorial policy toward the farmer and farm prices has been changed. The old cry of inflation was the Roosevelt method of building up public sentiment in urban centers against the farmer.

A certain manufacturer who makes part for farm machinery was asked how he would be able to profitably operate after the war on the present union scale of wages and and yet sell his manufactured goods at a profit. He replied such would be an impossibility. It would either be an increase in the price, cheaper or inferior raw material, no burishing with all casting in the rough and no painting. He said his company had a gross profit of seven percent average for five years before the war from which taxes had to be deducted. This manufacturer was dependent on other companies taking his output or making it themselves.

If the New Dealers never created a first class stir among the people on war issues, a good one has grown to boom proportions when the ODT hit the county fairs a black-eye. The reaction has put Democratic leaders behind the "eightball". You can canvass any one hundred men, or women, on the "no fair" and we have found not to exceed one or two that would condemn the ODT order. Everyone knows a county fair does not have to have the railroad for an exhibition. It is the soft headed New Dealers in Washington that know nothing about county fair or anything else unless it is a beer or champagne party. The absence of defense comment for the ODT in New Deal papers is "minus, plus" Then every county has or is supposed to have a Democratic committee. One of the tenants of the New Deal we were told would be for the New Deal to stand in defense of the common man. That being the case the ODT takes a rap at the common people, the 4-H Clubs, the young livestock feeders. Finding a Democratic chairman that has spoken publicly in behalf of the county fairs in this controversy, is like trying to find one that would openly defend the financial loans to a member of the Roosevelt family.

President Truman from a Democratic standpoint is taking chances with fate in his clearing his cabinet of what was once branded the best the nation ever had and their policies 100 percent perfect. This week witnessed the exit of Henry Morgenthau as head of the Treasury, his resignation being accepted "with regret", as we say in polite society. Old "Ant-in-his-pants, Harold Ickes, is next slated to go. "Grandpa" Stimson and his under-secretary, Patterson, are on the go list. Too bad such capable public servants should be let loose by President Truman at so critical a time. Or perhaps the President may have an idea these sons of our "critical" problems are due to the dumb blunders by those who tried to do the think they knew little or nothing about. Pres. Truman has the nod to Congress to let Henry Wallace to the ditching post by taking away most all of his activities. It is well to keep the old Iowa trouble maker in tight harness where he can be watched. He has so little to do he can hardly make a mistake. Then he should be kept up in front as the monumental symbol of the one directly responsible for the meat, sugar, tobacco and other crops. About all an old line Democrat can say now that the best President England ever had is gone, regardless of the double-dealing promises he made with Joe Stalin that were a disgrace to any nation. No blame falls on Joe, he found the goose and "picked it."

The Ohio legislature passed a bill that has caused much comment. It is a "war" bill whereby the wife of a soldier cannot "adopt" a baby without the husband being notified. The reverse for the soldier should be taken the same notion. With the head of several million families in Europe or the South-Pacific for two or three years and no return visits home, a lot of babies are being born in what would turn a mysterious manner. Probate Courts are being asked by a lot of America mothers to legally adopt a certain baby, which however has been in her home since birth. The Ohio soldier probably has no knowledge that he is the father of another child, or even a first born until the wife writes him and tells him of her loneliness and how necessary it was to adopt a baby. The veteran takes everything in good faith until a member of his family writes him the facts. Then war's on! Wife cannot explain only in the divorce court. As attending physicians are required to file certain information in regard to all births with the probate courts in Ohio, no doubt many of them could relate interesting experiences as to "who is who?" The new law makes it mandatory that the husband of the wife be notified of her intention to adopt a child as hers. In this way the husband can have the opportunity of knowing what has been going on at home. If the wife cannot or will not explain, imagine predicament when Uncle Sam cuts off her allotment and none for "baby" and her only correspondence relating to appearance for divorce action.

The Cincinnati Enquirer carries an editorial Monday that should be of interest to every family that has representatives in the army or navy. The Enquirer takes up the plea of a lady from Akron visiting in Cincinnati, who states that her husband had been confined in a hospital due to injury in service for several months but that no mail from the states ever reaches his bedside. His letters reach the wife and other relatives. He has become despondent because of no mail from home, yet the editorial says the wife, his mother and sister write each day. Yet, no mail for the veteran! This is and has been a common complaint among men in service. They may get their mail regularly for a time and all of a sudden it stops. The task of getting newspapers to service me is another problem. The Enquirer refers the problem to the New Postmaster General for correction. Service men on leave know their mail will catch up with them later. But when they have the same address for three months and then get no mail that is the problem of the army service. There are cases here in Cedarville where parents have received letters from sons saying they were sending a box of this or that but after waiting three months one must conclude the box has been rifled. A local mother sent a box with certain requested contents to her son. The box had been opened and several articles, including a camera, had been taken by some one. The service boy received the box, almost empty. The mail from Europe at the present time is "rotten" to say the least. There is abundance of proof for it. The Enquirer can speak for hundreds instead of the wife mentioned by name in the editorial.

The return of G I Joe to civil life is to be a shock for when that day comes he will return home to find a bare cupboard, little or no gas and no coal to keep warm this winter. While G I Joe has been promised everything he will run up against a stone wall on getting coal unless the New Dealers cut out more red tape. We have in mind a local veteran that just returned after more than thirty months in active service abroad. His family needed coal for they had no coal or natural gas equipment. To get winter coal you must sign a card. There was a final date for signing, whether you were in the army and could not or knew nothing of it, makes no difference. This veteran was advised to sign up a card and take a change for the law. The signed card was sent to the office of fuel administration in this district and returned. The time had expired for signing cards while the veteran was in service abroad. He needed groceries and meat and had to eat while waiting on ration points which is but a few of the things G. I. Joe meets upon returning home. He finds his parents tied down as tight as Hitler, had the Germans tied. And he (the veteran) risked his life to free others and comes home to be put under "duress vile" as if he had violated some law.

A real test of patriotism is when a Greene county boy who has had service for 30 months abroad, and has had to live on "K" rations for weeks at a time, has to stand guard while all kinds of groceries, meats and vegetables are unloaded for lend-lease. Probably some Greene County New Dealer might want to write his views on that point while the OPA withhold sugar for the brewers, and meat from the soldiers abroad as well as at home after his return. We open our column to the Chairman of the Greene County Democratic Executive Committee.

Cherry Applique

"See my new pinafore dress? Mother made it!" Can't you almost hear this joyous little girl exultantly saying just that? Now that mother has started on the household spring sewing, little daughter is in for some very happy surprises in way of pretty frocks and pinafores. For instance, this cunning pinafore frock shows how a simple unbleached muslin frock can be made to look too attractive for words just by appliqueing big cherries cut out of bright red bull-fast cotton. The frail stems are stitched in green thread.

Ohio...
we've come
a long way
together

Ohio, you have given America seven presidents in the 75 years. In those 75 years you have given the nation its first street lighting, its first electric street railway, its first airplane, cash register, pneumatic tire, self starter. You have become one of the country's greatest industrial and agricultural producers because your inventive citizens have dreamed of better ways to do things. Many of these inventions have called for new developments from petroleum... and Standard Oil men have been up to the job of creating them. Standard Oil provided the lubricants for the first airplane flight... for Ohio's early railroads so they could speed up trains... for the first automobile internal combustion engine—after it had been labeled a failure and was about to be sent back to England.

Through petroleum, and the magic power it holds, we have helped bring your people a new and better way of life. Machine power to do the labor they once had to do with their hands... in the factory, the home and on the farm. Heat, light and hundreds of other conveniences. Fast, comfortable transportation... new leisure... new freedom.

Yes... and with wonderful new discoveries from petroleum now being made—and still to come—we'll go a long way together in the years ahead, Ohio.

To the independent business men selling Sohio products: On our own 75th Anniversary we are proud to point to your continued high standard of service over the years. We appreciate your services in representing Sohio to the people of Ohio.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for July 29

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

GOD'S PROMISE OF A NATION

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 17:1-10.
GOLDEN TEXT—I will establish my covenant between me and thee and thy seed after thee in their generations for an everlasting covenant, to be a God unto thee and to thy seed after thee.—Genesis 17:7.

God keeps His promises. It may have appeared that God had forgotten, but He had not, and in our lesson we find Him ready to fulfill His promise.

We need to learn the lesson of patience, of awaiting God's time for the carrying out of His purpose. He is not in any hurry, but He always arrives on time. If we travel life's way with Him, all will be well.

Abram found the fullness of God's blessing because he sought His will for life and service. We find him:

I. Walking in God's Plan (vv. 1, 2).

The place of blessing is not in some cloistered refuge where the circumstances of life and its problems cannot disturb us. It is out in the daily walk with God, in the home, the office, the shop.

What is God's plan for the life of the believer? Just what He told Abram: "Be thou perfect." Nothing less will do, for He is a perfect God. His law is perfect (Ps. 19:7). He requires a perfect obedience to the perfect law (James 2:10). This was His standard for Abram, and it can be no less for us.

How shall we attain to it? Only in Christ can we meet and fulfill God's plan of perfection.

That means that as followers of the Lord we are to seek His power for the outworking of His grace in our lives. We are not to content with a Christian life on a low standard or lacking any of the graces which God can give us.

We, too, must recognize that if God is to give us His full measure of blessing, we must walk in accordance with His will, walking in the light as He is in the light (1 John 1:7). Much of the failure and impotence of present day spiritual life is explained by the willingness of Christians to live imperfect lives.

II. Talking of God's Purpose (vv. 3-5).

Abram fell on his face in adoration and worship. In reverence and humility, he put himself in the place of subjection and service.

What happened? "God talked with him" (v. 3). This man was ready for a holy conversation with the Lord. His attitude of body was only the outward expression of an attitude of heart which was right. So God and he talked about the purpose of the Lord for Abram's life.

He had been Abram, which means, "exalted father," that is, of a family or a tribe; now he became Abraham, "the father of a multitude."

This is the first of many instances in Scripture where a name was changed by God to mark an important event, or a change of heart. For example, Jacob "the supplanter" became Israel, a prince with God" (Gen. 32:28); Simon became Peter, "a rock" (Matt. 16:17, 18).

The letter to the church at Pergamos speaks of the one who overcomes in Christ's name as having a new name written which no man knows save he that receives it (Rev. 2:17). The believer on Christ is changed man, a new creature, whether his name be changed or not. God wants to change men—has He changed you?

The promise is renewed to Abraham. It was to his "seed," that is, his descendants. He took the blessing from God's hand, accepting things that as yet were not, as though they were. God is able to make them come to pass (cf. Rom. 4:16-18).

III. Trusting God's Promise (vv. 9, 10).

Down through the ages every man in the great host to descend from Abraham was to bear the outward token that he belonged to the covenant people. This was to be a symbol of and to lead the recipient into that attitude of heart which would bring outward rite into fulfillment as an inward reality.

Observe that after Abraham, it was always the parent who thus brought the son into the covenant. This speaks of the parental responsibility to bring the little children to the Lord, and it also gives us the precious assurance that God is interested in the children and ready to receive them at the hands of parents, taking them into His own tender care.

Thus down through the generations, Israel was to show their faith in God, their assurance that He would keep His promises to them, and their consequent eagerness that their families should be counted into the covenant with God.

Christ is ready and eager to undertake for our children. His grace is sufficient, not only for us, but also for those who come after us. His promise is to our "children's children" (Ps. 103:17, 18), "of such as keep His covenant. Let us trust Him, and put ourselves and our children in that place of obedience where He may bless us and them."

Teen-Timers Want Chic Styles Designed Especially for Them

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THERE is no clientele that has a better, chummiest "stand-in" with designers, merchants and in fact the entire fashion industry than that of our ever-beloved teen-age youngsters.

Believe it or not, these teen-timers, who seem to have "taken over" in the fashion realm, judging from the way their every whim in matter of dress is catered to by those who set the new fashions, definitely do not all wear bobby socks, nor do they all go about carelessly in too-large sweaters. As a matter of fact, most of them are keen on smart duds right now. There are times when even a Sinatra-swooner likes to get prettied up in a real dress, and pumps that have real heels.

There is one thing that teen-timers insist upon, and that is the clothes they wear must be styled definitely for them. The frocks, the suits, the coats, the blouses and all the details that go to make up their wardrobe must look the part of the radiant, keen-minded teen-age. You can see at first glance that the fashions here pictured are unmistakably keyed in teen-age mood. The roguish little teen-timer to the right is wearing a dress that fairly shouts youth at you. That good old standby, color-bright gingham, is the material used for this charming frock. It's trimmed with ric rac and features a baby neckline. A dirndl waistline and full ruffles about the neck and pockets bespeak a youthful styling.

The pretty girl, centered in the trio, is wearing a decidedly teenage type dress that features a daisy chain neckline and fly-front enhanced with embroidered daisies. This season embroidery enters very importantly into fashion's scheme of things. The smart epaulet shoulders carry the same line as the flanges, on big sister's new spring frock.

Any teen-age lass would feel quite dressed up in the dress to the left. It is made of gabardine in any of the new and lovely pastels you may choose. Embroidered daisies outline the scalloped pockets and the epaulet shoulders. The bodice ties with a self-fabric cord at the neckline. The soft dirndl-type skirt will sway beautifully on the dance floor.

A jumper dress rates as an indispensable in a young girl's wardrobe. A smartly styled type of gray flannel has a skirt that fastens down the left hip with huge red buttons. A semi-yoke that flanges over each shoulder is also cleverly anchored with three red buttons at each side. With this jumper frock, Miss Fashionwise Teen-ager wears a blouse of the new and tres chic long-sleeve type, the fullness of which is gathered in the wristbands.

The weekit dress is another high-spot in a teen-timer's wardrobe. A favorite model is made of checked rayon. The skirt has three flat box pleats in front and the bottom of the sleeveless weekit has a two-point hemline cut exactly like Daddy's vest. Girls in their early teens are also quite elated over the sun-back dresses being made up especially for them of striped chambray or printed pique that have the cunning little separate boleros with cool cap sleeves styled in the latest manner.

POST-WAR FLYING IN YOUR HOME TOWN

By C. C. CAMPBELL, Member, Aviation Writers Association, Washington, D. C.

One of the four fundamentals of our nation's airpower is personal flying and public air-mindedness. The other three are (1) a strong, permanent air force; (2) the fullest development of air commerce; (3) a progressive aircraft industry based on continued technological superiority.

Local Flying to Aid American Air Power

The development of personal flying and the building of air landing facilities is more than a community affair, it is very much in the national interest.

Air power of the United States has done much to win the wars. It will do much to provide for our future security as well as build American business.

At the beginning of both World War I and World War II air-minded America was still lacking in air power. Although the first successful flight with a heavier-than-air machine was made in America, although many of the foremost improvements in flying technique and aircraft construction were the result of American ingenuity, when war came, the United States lagged far behind.

This was particularly true in the number of trained flyers and of air mechanics. Vast training camps had to be established and from our comparatively few trained men and women, a substantial number had to be side-tracked into the instruction of America's youth.

Today, literally millions of young people know flying. They are the nucleus of both our military and civilian aviation of the future. It is necessary that the United States keep them trained and interested in flying. This can be done, only if there are planes for them to fly and fields from which to take off and on which to land.

Unless communities in every part of the nation provide these facilities the future of aviation will be very uncertain, government officials and the military services agree, and if America loses its supremacy in the air, our country will be wide open to aggression from other lands.

Then too, America now leads the world in commercial air transportation. The commercial pilots, co-pilots and other air and ground crewmen of tomorrow will, in large measure, be the young people of today, who have learned to fly their own personal airplanes.

Thus the future of aviation, and in it the future of America, lies in the development of community flying. Many towns and communities have registered their intention to do their share . . . to build landing facilities and encourage local flying.

More communities will join the movement, for economic or other reasons, until there will be a complete network of facilities in every state. Thus United States Air Power will be assured.

This is the fifth and last of a series of articles on post-war flying and its effect on community life.
